RAILROADS.

The Merchant's Magazine for August contains some interesting facts relative to railroad property in the Eastern, Middle and Western States. Its figures relate to the thirty-seven principal roads. Their combined length is 8,232½ miles. The aggregate cost was $495,899,027. The total earnings for last year was $159,194,587. Taking out expenses, which were $102,497,917, and $56,396,670 remained as net profits; being $6,886 for each mile of road, or nearly 11½ per cent. on the cost. While liberal dividends have been made, large amounts have been appropriated from the earnings for constructions and equipments, so that the roads are now in a condition of comparative completeness, and will hence forward require lighter appropriations for these purposes than in former years.

But, it will not do to assume that the exhibit made by other railroads in the same States is equally flattering. These thirty-seven are the most prosperous ones in the whole country. A full statement would probably show an equal amount of railroad capital on which very light dividends are paid, or none whatever.

THE Selma (Ala.) Times, discussing of the Test Oath, says:

"There are not a baker's dozen of old citizens within the limits of the late Confederate States of sufficient intelligence and character to fit them for any position of honor and trust who can take it.

"There are more who for the sake of office will "throw conscience to the devil," and swallow it; but they are not in any sense of the word representatives of the Southern people."

The President's son-in-law, Senator PATTERSON, of Tennessee, must fall within one or the other of these categories; for he took the Oath without wincing. Did he "throw conscience to the devil" for the sake of office? or has he not "sufficient intelligence and character to fit him for any position of honor and trust?"

SUMMING UP.—Mr. Vallandigham, in a private conversation with a Chicago gentleman recently, summed up the political situation as follows:

"The only question now is whether the whale shall swallow Jonah or Jonah the whale—that is, whether the great Democrati: party shall swallow the handful of Johnson men, or the Johnson men shall swallow the great Democratic party."

All of which, (says an exchange) must remind the reader of Mark Lemon's lines in Punch:

"Will the Boa 'bolt' the blanket!
Will the Blanket 'bolt' the Boa!?
Tremendous thought!!
Prodigious Blanket!!!
ENORMOUS BOA!!!"

IT IS STATED THAT MR. CLYMER, smitten with admiration of the self-denial evinced by WOOD, VALLANDIGHAM and TRAIN, in staying out of the Philadelphia Convention, offers to emulate it by declining the Democratic nomination for Governor. No doubt, seeing already the hand, writing on the wall, he is anxious to escape the inconveniences of a defeat. Like his prototypes, he wants to make a show of disinterestedness in backing out where he sees no way of getting in.

THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY FAIR.—Colonel HARRIS, of the Ohio Farmer, published at Cleveland, has accepted an invitation to address the Allegheny County Agricultural Society at the next Fair, to be held from the 18th to the 31st of September, and will discourse about sheep and other things. No doubt the managers will give timely notice of the day and hour he will speak.

A REPUBLICAN MASS CONVENTION was held at West Chester on the 14th inst. Mr. BROOMALL, the member of Congress for that district, made the main speech. A resolution, instructing the members of the Legislature for Chester county to vote for Gov. CURTIN for United States Senator, was laidon the table.

CONSCIENCE is gaining ground. A man in Chicago has made restitution to the government of a thousand dollars he obtained in contravention of law and equity. Previously conscience was only strong enough to make the small plunderers come down. Let her strength increase until the chief plunderers disgorge.

CORRESPONDENTS, living in Philadelphia, and familiar with all the ins and outs of politics there, assure us that the Republican cause never stood on higher vantage ground in that city. The President's Convention will produce no abatement of the Republican majority.

MR. SEWARD is the only member of the Cabinet who will accompany the President to Chicago. Some members of the households of the different Ministers will go along. Mr. STANTON is represented as being the only Secretary who does not desire to go.

SPURGEON says that Henry Ward Beecher seems to him, in breadth and variety of mental endowments, more like Shakspeare than any man who has lived since his time.

COL. GRAY, nominated by the Republicans of Schuylkill county for Congress, will doubtless receive confirmation from those of Lebanon county.

IN Ohio the rallying cry of the Republicans in the canvass is, "The Constitutional Amendment as it is, and Johnson as he was."

GOV. CURTIN and the Hon. LINN BARTHOLOMEW, of Pottsville, will address the Republicans at Lebanon next Monday.

THE Republicans of Fayette county have issued notice for a series of township meetings, to commence on the 18th inst.

MR. THADDEUS STEVENS speaks at a Republican mass meeting at Mechanicsville to-morrow evening.

IT is proposed to tunnel the Mississippi at St. St. Louis, instead of bridging it.

—The Chicago Republican has existed fourteen months, and has spent $221,500, of which $35,000 was paid for the Morning Post, which was merged into the Republican. C. A. Dana received $10,000 for the stock which the Company presented to him, and $7,500 for his year's services. Part of the remainder of the money was invested in a six-cylinder Hoe press and other presses; but the larger part of $251,500 was absorbed in the accruing deficits that existed between earning and "running" expenses.

—"There is no Abraham Lincoln President now," said Mr. Vallandigham in his Kentucky speech. Vallandigham is about right. What followed must have hightened the effect of his exultation. "Give it to him!" (meaning Lincoln,) shouted one of the rebel crowd. We have an idea that they and Vallandigham did "give it to him," and that he died of it. That is why Abraham Lincoln is not President, and Andrew Johnson is.—N. Y. Tribune.

Habitual Constipation.
HOW TO EFFECT A CERTAIN AND PERMANENT CURE.
Some occupations of life predispose to Costiveness, especially those which allow but little exercise. Persons who contract this unfortunate habit of body, under such circumstances, might possibly be relieved by changing their sedentary employments for others of a more active kind; but this is by no means certain. Habitual costiveness is a very obstinate disorder. All the ordinary so-called remedies invariably aggravate it. Nothing can be more injurious than the continued use of strong aperients. They at first irritate, and finally almost peralyze the bowels—rendering them so torpid that enormous doses of cathartic medicines have no effect upon them. A mild aperient, combined with a gentle stimulant, is the true remedy; and a combination in the happiest proportion of these ingredients is found in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This famous Stomachic invigorates the whole intestinal canal, while quietly removing from its convolutions all impediments to a free passage through them. No mere purgative has this double operation. No ordinary stimulant effects the desired object. Cases of Constipation abandoned as hopeless by distinguished medical men have been cured in a few weeks by the Bitters. To those who have tried all the medicines of the dispensatory in vain, we say try this irresistible stimulant and aperient. There is no sufficient reason why constipation should be the consequence of sedentary habits. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, by supplying the vigor which would otherwise be derived from exercise, will in all cases enable the system to perform its excretory functions regularly and healthfully.

Hostetter's Bitters
Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond and Market, near Fourth street.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, August 16, 1866.

The National Union Convention reassembled in the wigwam at 10 o'clock this morning, pursuant to the adjournment. Every seat in the building was filled. The attendance of ladies was greater than on any previous day. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Reed M. Snyder, of Pennsylvania. The President of the Convention, Senator Doolittle, then rose and said: Before we proceed to any further business, the Chair begs leave to announce as the first response to the call for this Convention, the result of the Colorado election. (Cheers.)

DENVER, COLORADO TERRITORY, Aug. 16, 1866. —Returns from all parts of the Territory, render the certain election of A. C. Hunt, the Administration candidate for delegate to Congress, over Chilicoot, the Radical.

The dispatch was greeted with great applause.

Mr. Crowell, of New Jersey, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a National Union Executive Committee be appointed, to be composed of two delegates from each State and territory, and the District of Columbia.

The resolution was adopted.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson, who on rising was greeted with enthusiastic cheers, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee consisting of two delegates from each State and one from each territory, and the District of Columbia be appointed by the Chair to wait upon the President of the United States and present him with an authentic copy of the proceedings of this Convention.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Charles Knap, of the District of Columbia, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee on Finance be appointed, to consist of two delegates from each State and Territory, and the District of Columbia.

The resolution was adopted.

General Patton, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution on the subject of representation in the Convention, which, under the rules of the Convention, was referred without reading or debate.

Mr. Cowan then offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be, and are hereby tendered to Morton McMichael, Esq., Mayor of the city of Philadelphia, for his admirable police arrangements for the preservation of peace and good order during the sitting of the Convention.

The resolution was greeted with applause and carried unanimously.

Mr. Cowan again rose and said, on behalf of the Committee who were appointed to prepare the resolutions and address:

I have to state that, after a very careful and elaborate consideration of the same, lasting all day and part of the night, we have agreed upon the same. I beg leave to report the following declaration of the principles adopted unanimously by the Committee, which the Secretary of the Convention will now read, and also an address to the people of the country, which will be read by Hon. Mr. Raymond, of New York. (Applause.)

The Secretary then proceeded to read the declaration of principles, each clause of which was loudly applauded. The last one, which endorses the President, was greeted with prolonged cheering, in which the audiance and delegates united.

THE DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES OF THE NATIONAL UNION CONVENTION, NOW ASSEMBLED IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, COMPOSED OF DELEGATES FROM EVERY STATE AND TERRITORY IN THE UNION.

Admonished by the solemn lessons which for the last five years it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to give to the American people, and profoundly grateful for the return of peace; desirous as a large majority of their countrymen, in all sincerity, are to forget and forgive the past; revering the Constitution as it comes to us from our ancestors; regarding the Union in its restoration, as more sacred than ever, looking with deep anxiety into the future as of instant and continuing trial, hereby issues and proclaims the following declarations of principles for the purpose on which they have with perfect unanimity, agreed:

First, We hail with gratitude to Almighty God the end of the war, and the return of peace to an afflicted and beloved land.

Second, The war just closed has maintained the authority of the Constitution with all the powers which it conferes and all the restrictions which it imposes upon the General Government unabridged and unaltered, and it has preserved the Union with the equal rights, dignity and authority of the States perfect and unimpaired.

Third, Representation in the Congress of the United States and in the Electoral College is a right recognized by the Constitution as abiding in every State, and as a duty imposed upon its people, fundamental in its nature and essential to the exercise of our republican institutions, and neither Congress nor the General Government has any authority or power to deny this right to any or withhold its enjoyment under the Constitution from the people thereof.

Fourth. We call upon the people of the United States to elect to Congress as members thereof none but men who admit this fundamental right of representation, and who will receive to seats the loyal representatives from every State in allegiance to the United States, subject to the constitutional power of each House to judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members.

Fifth, The Constitution of the United States or the laws made in pursuance thereof, are the supreme law of the land, (!) anything in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary, notwithstanding. All powers not conferred by the Constitution upon the General Government nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States or the people thereof; and among the rights thus reserved to the States is the right to prescribe qualifications for and define the franchise therein, which right Congress cannot interfere with. No State or convention of States has a right to withdraw from the Union or to exclude through their action any State from its place in the Union or Territory from the Union. The union of these States is perpetual.

Sixth, Such amendments to the Constitution of the United States may be made by the people thereof as they may deem expedient, but only in the mode pointed out by its resolution, and proposing such amendments, whether by Congress or by a convention, and in ratifying the same all the States of the Union have an unqualified and indefeasible right to a voice and vote therein.

Seventh, Slavery is forever and forever prohibited, and there is neither desire nor purpose on the part of the Southern States that it should ever be re-established. Upon this all the parties to the jurisdiction of the United States; and the enfranchised of slaves in all the states of the Union should receive in common with all their inhabitants equal protection in person and property.

Eighth, While we regard as utterly invalid and never to be assumed or made of binding force any obligation incurred or undertaken in making war against the United States, we hold the debt of the nation to be sacred and inviolable, and we proclaim our purpose in discharging this as in performing all other national obligations to maintain unimpaired and unimpeached the honor and faith of the Republic.

Ninth, It is the duty of the National Government to recognize the services of the federal soldiers and sailors in the contest just closed, by meeting promptly and fully all their just and rightful claims, for the services they have rendered the nation, and by extending to those of them who have survived, and to widows and orphans of those who fell, the most generous and considerate care.

Tenth, In Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, who, in his great office, has proved steadfast in his devotion to the Constitution, the laws and interests of his country, unmoved by persecution and undeserved reproach, having faith immeasurable in the people and in the principles of the institutions he was elected, and to whose Administration in the discharge of his high and responsible duties, our profound respect and assurance of our sincere support.

After the vote had been taken on the adoption of the foregoing declaration of principles, it was found that the reading of the seventh one had been omitted by accident, and this fact was announced by Senator Doolittle. It was then read and adopted with great applause and unanimity. The declaration of principles was then adopted as a whole with enthusiastic cheers. After the adoption three cheers were called for and given in the most enthusiastic manner for Senator Cowan, of Pennsylvania.

Senator Cowan acknowledged the compliment, but said that as he considered himself the host of the Convention, some of the distinguished guests would address it, by virtue of authority unanimously derived from the Committee on Resolutions and Address, namely, the Hon. Henry J. Raymond, of New York.

Mr. Raymond therefore proceeded to read the Address, which had been written by himself, and also been the Declaration of Principles. He was so frequently interrupted by applause that the Chairman appealed to the Convention to restrain such manifestations until the reading of the Address should be completed. At the close of one sen-

[illegible] cheer resounded through the wigwam.

Senator Johnson asked that the sentence be repeated.

The sentence was read again, as follows: "No people has ever yet existed whose loyalty and faith such treatment, long continued, would not alienate and impair, and the ten millions of Americans who live in the South would be unworthy citizens of a free country—degenerate sons of a heroic ancestry—unfit ever to become the guardians of the rights and liberties bequeathed to us by the fathers and founders of the Republic—if they could accept with uncomplaining submissiveness the humiliation thus sought to be imposed upon them." This sentiment was again cheered with the greatest enthusiasm, and at the close of the reading of the address Ex-Governor Perry, of South Carolina, rose and moved its adoption. The motion was declared carried unanimously, amid prolonged cheering.

Mr. Samuel J. Tilden, of New York, then rose and proposed, on behalf of the New York delegation, three cheers for H. J. Raymond, who had prepared the address just read.

Mr. Patten, on behalf of the Pennsylvania delegation, seconded the call. The cheers were then enthusiastically given. The address contains about eight thousand words, and will make not far from four columns in the New York morning papers. It demands the universal acknowledgment of the legitimate consequences of the war, which are the perpetual maintenance of the Union, and the destruction of slavery. It asserts, inter alia, that the Government acquired no new rights or powers by the war; that it acted only on the defensive. Congress had passed a resolution that when the rebel powers and dignity of the States should remain unimpaired, and that the power assumed by the Government in the States since the war closed, was in violation of the Constitution. The Constitution declares that no State shall without its own consent, be deprived of its equal representation in the Senate.

The action of Congress denying representation to the Southern States, appears as great an effort to overthrow the Government as was that by armed rebellion. If one Congress can exclude on one pretext, another Congress may exclude other States on another pretext. There is no warrant for this in the Constitution. Not only cannot representatives be excluded from Congress, but no State without its own consent can be deprived of equal representation in the Senate, even by a constitutional amendment. Moreover, the only pretext for the action of Congress is that the States lately in rebellion have lost their right to representation, which the Supreme Government can restore. But it is a principle that no right can be forfeited, nor any State right or duty of a State to be represented in Congress be impaired by rebellion. Only its enjoyment of that privilege can be obstructed.

The address further asserts that the position of Congress in the matter is not warranted by the Constitution and is incompatible with the public safety. It is also argued that three-fourths of the loyal States cannot change the fundamental law affecting the States, and that Maine has no right to pass judgments upon the motives of any citizen of the United States when its acts are loyal. No where are the laws obeyed better than in the States lately in rebellion. The disturbances that have occurred were due as much to injudicious political movements as any purpose hostile to the Government, if the people of the South show the disposition than formerly, to acquiesce in the new order of affairs, it is because Congress has withheld their rights from them.

If any fault other be theirs, it is the degenerate sons of their sires. No people ever existed whose loyalty would not have been impaired by such treatment. The people of the South will not long be unwilling to be trusted in the exercise of their rights, if they were willing to submit to such humiliation. These men acted as they did, either from a conviction of right, or because they were under compulsion, for this they have suffered ten fold more than those who have remained faithful to the Union. This address pledges them to future obedience to the law. It adds that the war has swept away slavery, the cause of sectional variance and hostilities, and has revealed and disciplined our soldiers. The address directs attention to the fact that the new Congress is soon to be elected, and adds that if the present policy be pursued, civil war may be renewed, and calls upon every Congressional District to return only members who are favorable to the policy of restoration.

The several committees appointed by the Chair and announced as follows: National Union Executive Committee, John T. Crowell, of New Jersey, Chairman; Maine, Jas. Mann and A. G. Judd; New Hampshire, Edward Burke and F. Fuller; Vermont, B. H. Smalley and Col. H. S. Northam; Massachusetts, Josiah Dunham and E. S. Shafford; Rhode Island, Alfred Anthony and Jas. M. President's Executive Committee at Washington: Charles Knap, of New Jersey, Chairman, Hon. Montgomery Blair, of Maryland; Hon. Charles Mason, of Iowa, Ward H. Lamon, of District of Columbia; John F. Cole, of District of Columbia; A. E. Berry, of District of Columbia; Samuel Fowler, District of Columbia; Cornelius Wendell, of District of Columbia; Col. James R. Oberne, District of Columbia; Hon. Reverdy Johnson, was appointed by the Committee to wait upon the President. Chas. Knapp, of the District of Columbia, was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Finance.

All the business of the Convention having been thus disposed of, Hon. John Bogan, of Missouri, rose and moved that as the Convention had performed so gloriously all the business for which it had met, that it now adjourn sine die.

The Chairman stated that before putting that motion he desired to have some announcements made.

On motion of Mr. Schell, of Pennsylvania, the thanks of the Convention were tendered to the President and officers of the Convention for the able and impartial manner in which they had discharged their duties.

On motion of Robt. D. Holmes the thanks of the Convention were tendered to the representatives of the press for their able and impartial performance of their duty.

On motion of J. S. Rollins, of Missouri, the thanks of the Convention were tendered to the citizens of Philadelphia, for their hospitality and kindness.

The President of the Convention then announced that he had received from the President and Secretary of the National Union Johnson Club of Philadelphia, a gavel made out of the wood of the frigate Constitution.

The President also announced that the German Union Club, of Cincinnati, Ohio, had presented certain names as honorary members of the Convention, which were ordered to be inscribed on the proceedings.

The President also announced that there would be a meeting of the soldiers and sailors in attendance on the Convention, at the wigwam, this evening.

On motion of Hon. Reverdy Johnson, it was resolved that a correct copy of the proceedings of the Convention be prepared by Hon. E. O. Perrin, Secretary, and certified to by the President, for publication by the President Committee at Washington City.

The President then presented the following letter from General DIX:

S. J. Tilden, Esq., Chairman of the New York Delegation—DEAR SIR: I am obliged to return to New York this afternoon, on urgent business. The admirable spirit of harmony and conciliation which pervades the Convention renders my presence unnecessary and leaves me not without regret than that of being unable to witness the close of the proceedings so auspiciously commenced and so full of promise of future good. (Signed,)

Very truly yours, JOHN A. DIX.

The letter was greeted with loud cheers.

The President of the Convent on, Senator Doolittle, then said:

Gentlemen of the Convention—For the kindness and courtesy by which you have sustained the Chair, in the efforts to which, by your resolute, return you my sincere thanks! Before putting the motion which shall terminate the proceedings of this convention, I shall ask you once more to join in prayer with Rev. Mr. Elliot, invoking the benediction of Almighty God, by whose support we are sure of success, but without which we should inevitably fail.

The Rev. Mr. Elliot thereupon made an eloquent prayer, returning thanks to the Almighty for the harmony and union of hearts which had been manifested throughout the Convention, for the spirit of conciliation, good will, and charity, seen in all its members and its proceedings; for the blessing which now crown the nation, and especially for the President of the United States, so worthy of his situation and position.

The chair then, at half past twelve o'clock, put the question and announced that the Convention stood adjourned sine die. The band then played very touchingly and beautifully the air of "Home, Sweet Home." Tremendous cheers were given for President Johnson and Senator Doolittle, and after much kindly and pleasant conversation the members of the Convention and the spectators gradually dispersed.

Bank of England Discount Reduced.

THE MONEY MARKET.

[BY CABLE.]

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Noon—It is officially stated to-day that the French government has receded from its demand made upon Prussia for an extension of the frontier to the Rhine. France does this in the interest of peace, which she desires far more than territorial aggrandizement. The hope is also expressed by the official journal—the Moniteur—that Prussia will not extend her projects of annexation to the German States south of the Maine.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Noon—At the Bank Court to-day, a reduction was made in the rate of discount of the Bank of England from 10 to 8 per cent. Consols, 88¾. Five-twenties are at 68¾.

LIVERPOOL, August 16.—Noon—The cotton market is buoyant under the peaceful news and the reduction of the bank rate.

LONDON, August 16.—Evening.—The following are the official quotations at the close of business to-day on the London Stock Exchange: Consols, for money, 87¾; U. S. 5-20s, 68; Illinois Central, 75; Erie, 42¾.

LIVERPOOL, August 16, P. M.—Cotton advanced to-day a quarter of a penny per pound. The sales foot up 20,000 bales middling uplands at 14c. The breadstuff market is firm.

SOUTHERN LOYALISTS' CONVENTION

Secretary of the Pennsylvania Union State Central Committee.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16, 10 p. m.—The Union Central Committee of Pennsylvania send greeting to their brave Union brothers of the South, and extend to them a hearty welcome on the occasion of their meeting in this city on Monday, the 3rd day of September next. History furnished no parallel to the patriotism, courage and fidelity of those men who from the beginning of the rebellion to the end, fought the good fight and kept the faith. The question to be decided, is whether loyalty is to be proscribed and punished in the persons of patriots like these, or treason rewarded and honored in persons of the guilty authors, and agents of the rebellion. Shall the loyal masses or baffled and defeated traitors govern the country.

In these great issues all are vitally concerned, and our southern compatriots have instinctively turned toward the spot where the great charter of American liberty was first proclaimed and proposed within the sacred shadow of Independence Hall, to renew their vows of fidelity to the principles of that immortal creed and to take council with the Union friends on behalf of the loyal men of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This Committee hereby cordially extends a fraternal welcome to these patriots and friends from southern States, all who come will be received with open arms and warm hearts. The Union men of Pennsylvania are cordially and fraternally invited to come here and honor the occasion with their presence, and to enable all to confer together upon the present and future of our glorious country. It is also suggested and recommended that our friends from other States send delegations here on this important occasion, not to act in the Convention, but to cheer and co-operate with their tried champion of liberty from the South.

By order of the Committee,
(Signed.) E. R. JORDAN,
Chairman.

The National Hall has been secured for the setting of the Convention of Southern Unionists, to-day, in this city. The National Union Club invites the delegates as they arrive, to call at Rooms No. 1105, Chestnut street, and register their names. The Club place their rooms at the use of the Convention as headquarters. Gov. A. J. Hamilton, of Texas, and Thos. J. Durant, of New Orleans, have already registered their names. At a meeting of the National Union Executive Committee, a resolution was adopted, earnestly recommending to the friends of peace, Union, liberty and law in every county of the States and Territories, to hold mass meetings for the purpose of ratifying the action of the Convention and provide means to place its proceedings in the hands of every citizen of the Republic.

Decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in Regard to Stamps upon Railroad Coupons—Tobacco Seized for Revenue Tax.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The acting commissioner of internal revenue in Washington has given his opinion that the coupon tickets issued by some of the street railroads of this city, are of the nature of agreements, and, as such, require revenue stamps. In charging two cents additional above the legal tax, he says, is evidence of an intent, on the part of the company, to defraud the public.

Extensive frauds upon the Revenue are said to have come to light among the dealers and shippers of tobacco. The quantity of tobacco seized in this city was sixty thousand pounds, on which a duty of twenty-four thousand dollars should have been paid. It was found that the packages had the revenue brand on them, permitting them to come to this port, and that the parties in charge of it had the necessary papers. Samuel Hardy and Chas. P. Hoge, Deputy Collector of the district in which Danville is situated, showing that the duty had been paid. This signature was discovered to be forged. A leading Revenue Inspector has made an important estimate of the amount of the frauds on the Government in the manufacture of tobacco. He states that the loss to the Treasury by the non-payment or evasion of tax is about eight million dollars a year.

Meeting of the Association for the Advancement of Science.

BUFFALO, August 16.—At the meeting of the Association for the Advancement of Science to-day there were about four hundred and fifty persons present. The association conducted to act in two sections, one to discuss physical science, and the other natural science. Up to noon to-day about fifty papers had been filed with the Secretary, on various important subjects. The section on physical science organized with Professor Coffin, of eastern Pennsylvania, as chairman, and Prof. Perkins, of Hudson College, Secretary. The section on natural science organized with Prof. Tyson President, and Prof. Newberry, Secretary.

Professor Stoddard read a paper on steamship explosions.

Papers were read on the subject of alum in bread, and on the Puebla Indians.

Prof. Worthen, of Illinois, presented a paper on the geology of Illinois.

Cholera in Savannah—Report of Dr. Lawton.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Surgeon Caleb W. Horner, chief medical officer of the Freedmen's Bureau, has made a dispatch from Dr. Lawton, Surgeon in Chief of the Bureau in Georgia, giving an account of the rise and progress of the cholera in Savannah. He states that the disease appeared simultaneously at several points, and was doubtless introduced by deserting soldiers from Tybee Island. It yields very readily to treatment, but is said that the disease is on the increase. Further, that thus far the disease exists in but few cases in this city, but if it spreads, and many freed people have it, he would open the hospital to that purpose upon the request of the city authorities to furnish physicians, meat, ice, brandy, &c.

Base Ball at Louisville—Mayor Brown Assaults Lawyer Redford—Election of President and Superintendent of Nashville and Clarksville Railroad.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 16.—The Louisville Cumberland and Nashville base ball clubs held a second match here to-day for the championship of Kentucky and Tennessee. Score:—Louisville, 72; Cumberland, 11; Nashville, 16.

W. Mat. Brown, Mayor, assaulted Lawyer Redford in the latter's office to-day, on account of the personalities made by Redford in his recent speech before the negro convention.

Hon. Edmund Foster was elected President of the Nashville and Clarksville railroad, and Mr. Innis Superintendent.

Conspiracy to Abduct Maximilian—Eighteen Arrests Made—Santa Anna in the Plot—He is Also Arrested.

NEW YORK, August 16.—Advices from the City of Mexico to the 28th ult. say that eighteen arrests were made in that city of persons who had conspired to abduct the Emperor from his palace and carry him off to the mountains. A letter purporting to be written by General Santa Anna to Archbishop Ordonez, urges the latter to enter into the plot. He was therefore arrested, but was not banished to Yucatan, the same as the rest, by reason of his failing health.

Action of the Baltimore Conservative Convention — Disturbances Between the Two Parties.

BALTIMORE, August 16.—The Conservative City Convention of the friends of Gov. Swann and President Johnson, was held to-night. Daniel Harvey was nominated for Mayor. Some disturbance took place between the friends of Mayor Chapman and of the newly nominated candidate, but nothing serious resulted.

DAVIS--ANDERSONVILLE.

Some years have elapsed since we felt much sympathy for great offenders against the peace and good order of society on account of the miseries justly entailed on them by their misdeeds. Hence, we have not been moved by the stories Democrats have told about the sufferings of Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS in Fortress Monroe. What right has he to complain? or any body to complain for him? Surely, it will not be pretended that he is wrongfully deprived of his liberty. If justice had been done on him; if the "enforcement of the laws," which the Democrats occasionally prate concerning, had been rigidly attended to; he would have died an ignominious death long ago. Did he show mercy, when it was in his power—not to criminals, but to the best patriots the world has ever seen? Let the untold horrors of Andersonville answer.

That this comparison may be fully appreciated, we have called to our aid the help of artists, and present the result on our fourth page. Pray, consider the picture. In one dismal tableau are presented men enduring the horrors of absolute starvation—for no crime—for no pretense of crime—but simply for defending the government against most ruthless assaults—from the deadly weapons of persons who had sworn to bear it true allegiance. They were furnished upon system—under stern, cold, implacable diabolism. One word from Mr. Davis would have brought them relief. He refused to speak that word. Nay, he was the author of this inhuman torture. It was inflicted by his command. Over the long death-rolls he paused with fiendish satisfaction. As Robespierre stoically adjudged how many heads must fall from the guillotine before he could make his government endure, and went deliberately at work to make sure of his victims, in like manner did Mr. Davis compute how many Union soldiers it would be needful to starve to death to make the Confederacy stand—and he went about it as he would any common and lawful employment.

In the other tableau Mr. Davis is exhibited undergoing his luxurious detention. He is obsequiously attended, and furnished with all the good things his appetite craves. Even the graces of womanhood enliven his condition. The attending soldiers seem rather a guard of honor than sturdy sentinels to prevent his escape. Captivity was never made more easy, nor imprisonment more carefully garlanded with roses.

We ask every man, woman and child to survey carefully and consider the true import of these representations.

THE EUROPEAN WAR.

NAPOLEON has been snubbed a second time. The cable informs us that the French government has abandoned the idea of extending the frontier to the Rhine. Welcome news; but inexplicable diplomacy! If we should see a card player spending his biggest trumps on tricks already secure, we should feel very much inclined to consider him a fool, and we can put no different construction on the conduct of NAPOLEON. To make the rash demand of increase of territory from victorious Prussia, was precarious enough; but to back down from this demand upon her simple though firm refusal, is a voluntary receding from the proud position of arbiter, which he has hitherto claimed to hold. This news is very satisfactory, as we now have reason to believe, that a more honest policy will shape the destinies of Europe and that peace will ae made on a permanent basis.

What an astonishing change this short conflict has brought about! What great revelations it has made to the world! Even Prussia is surprised at the result, and, like a victorious fighter of the ring, feels its muscles and sinews, to convince itself of its own strength. It requires time for the government in Berlin to become fully awake to the fact that, at present, they are complete masters of the position and that their position is one of great responsibility, as the condition of affairs for the next quarter of a century depends much on the nature of their resolutions. But it cannot be denied that BISMARK is an apt scholar, and that he takes the hints of fortune with a commendable alacrity. He has dared to refuse NAPOLEON, and for this he deserves forgiveness for all his past sins. He shows himself an acute observer of the signs of the times, and we look into the future with an eye more and more hopeful.

There is more good news in the report—the late dispatches of the Cable we mean—of the deliberations going on in Berlin, tending towards the proper means of receiving the Southern German States back into a closer union. We imagine that these deliberations are carried on with the knowledge and consent of the States in question, and augur the best results from them. Prussia's firm position against the aggression of France must fast gain her all hearts, and will eventually form the cement to join the members which the late war has torn from the great German body, whose nucleus is Prussia.

According to the telegraph, the relations between Prussia and Bavaria are of an unfriendly nature, and hostilities are likely to commence again. We have repeatedly stated our distrust in these sensation dispatches, which a little reflection must at once lay bare. We have scarcely ever heard of war between the lion and the dog, unless that latter was the ally of the tiger, or some other powerful animal. This animal haylug made peace, it is not at all probable that the dog will carry on the war on his own account. We say it is not probable; but if it should turn out to be so, the result cannot be doubtful. The lion pounces upon the dog, even if it should be a sturdy mastiff, and with one good shake, sends it into another existence. The reader will recollect what we said about Italy and Austria under similar circumstances. Events have borne us out, and at present everything tends towards a sound, durable peace.

To say a word or two more, about the movements of LOUIS NAPOLEON—it becomes more evident every day that he played a double game during the whole conflict. While he appeared to side with Italy and Prussia, he hoped for and believed in the success of the Austrian arms; and this alone accounts for the awkward position in which he finds himself at present. When he at last awoke out of his false security, he tried with desperate energy, to regain the reins that had slipped out of his fingers during his doze, and might have been successful if it had not been for those ugly raps over his knuckles, which BISMARK was impolite enough to apply. As we said before, we believe and trust that he will never again hold these reins, and there are very few people in Europe who do not think in this matter as we do. More than all others, however, the English rejoice over the confutation of their dear friend and ally. They are so extremely fond of him, that, as the saying goes, they might wish to "set him up."

THE PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.

Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, August 16, 1866.

The impression is almost universal that the Convention is a humbug. By order from Washington it is so toned down that all individuality is lost. There is no use of going into the Wigwam, or of reading the proceedings, as published in the newspapers, in the hope of finding out what the members think and how they feel. A vast deal more can be gleaned by sauntering through the hotels, and passing into the parlors assigned to the different delegates. It does not take long, in this way, to ascertain that the point of attainment the Southern men are after is to get their States back, beyond all peradventure, into the Union. That done, so as not to be undone, and they will proclaim on the house-tops, what they feel and mean to do. Till then they will say and do only what they think will conduce to that end. There is no harmony of sentiment and purpose here between northern and southern men, except so far as the former are ready to debase themselves in restoring the latter to their former domination. Nor is there any genuine love for the Union among the southern men. Some of them do, in a certain sense, "accept the situation." They know full well that the rebellion is beaten, and that, for the present, there is no reasonable chance for renewing it. But this very knowledge increases the intensity of their hatred for northern men and ideas, by which they understand men and ideas adverse to the southern pretensions.

Ithink, too, that no sharer in the doings of the Convention, and no candid looker-on will pretend that the Convention has contributed to restore a condition of genuine concord between the two sections. The whole thing is felt to be unreal, a cheat, and a sham. Parts are assigned, and parts are played; and that is all, except that a sense of humiliation remains that so much duplicity should be thought necessary.

Order is preserved and perhaps would be under any circumstances. But the Mayor has taken unusual precautions by employing additional police, and by keeping a regiment of State troops on duty all the while. This regiment is commanded by Colonel THOMAS, Collector of the Port, and it is instructive to note with what promptness and fidelity he does duty as a soldier. Standing guard over a convocation ordered by a President, to support a Policy, for refusing to sanction which he was dismissed from office.

The orators of the Convention were all designated by authority. The number was limited to ten. It is reasonable to presume they are all restricted to a repetition of the substance of the Platform agreed upon. Of course the more tractable and discreet of the Southern men will be assigned to this delicate duty, and their strain of talk will be in strong contrast with what one hears from the lips of other delegates outside the Convention.

The greatest piece of deception and jugglery practiced yet is the exclusion of VALLANDIGHAM. There are scores of men admitted who are just as virulent copperheads as he, and not half as sincere. If the country could know on what conditions and stipulations he, and WOOD, and some others have been induced to stay out, the popular indignation would flame intensely. These men, while ruled out, are not discarded, and the pretense of discarding them is a fraud. They are in the arrangement, and are to share whatever advantages may result from the new combinations.

—A Washington correspondent of the Charleston (South Carolina) News (Rebel) says:

"An officer who formerly belonged to the staff of Maj.-Gen. Butler was appointed to visit Texas and observe the condition of affairs there. He has just returned and has made his report at the White House. How the man got the appointment is not plain. The President must have been acquainted with his Radical bias, and reluctance to make any but an evil report. I have heard something of the report, though it is not published yet, and may not be. He gives a revolting and horrid account of the state of society in Texas, political and social. He represents the whole mass of the population as hostile to the Union, to the Federal Government, and to all people of the loyal States. He states that, wherever he was, they killed six negroes a day. No one could walk or ride about anywhere in the State without being killed or insulted, if he was not known and recognized Rebel and Secessionist.

A FORMIDABLE CLERGYMAN.—There is a young Baptist clergyman at Saratoga, N. Y., the Rev. Mr. Frost, who is creating quite a sensation, and promises in time to become a Spurgeon or Beecher. He is six feet four inches in height, stout in proportion, and weighs some three hundred pounds. He has a voice like Forrest, the actor, only much deeper and more resonant. This clerical giant is a man of prodigious strength, and the Saratoga sporting men who have seen him say that, had he taken to pugilism, Morrissey would have been an infant in his arms.

—A letter published in a Kentucky paper, describing the Naval Academy at Annapolis, contains this passage: "One boy from Kentucky, well formed, physically and mentally, very active, himself rejected, said to me, 'The Eastern boys get in, but only one out of fourteen of us from Kentucky has been admitted.' This was a simple commentary on the educational systems of the different sections. Nature had done everything it could; but the one lacked that thorough drill in the elementary English branches which is acquired in the primary schools of New England."

—Major Gen. G. K. Warren is now in Washington making preparations for the surveys of the Upper Mississippi river and some of its tributaries, for which purpose $100,000 was appropriated last session. These will include an examination of the railroad bridges between St. Louis and Fort Snelling, and the best means to reconcile the conflicting interests of the railroads and the shipping.

—A train of emigrants from Canada, with their horses, mules, cattle, sheep, etc., passed through Kansas City, on Wednesday, proposing to settle in Jackson county, Mo. They came all the way from Montreal by land, and were five weeks on the route.

"How Shiftless!"

Had Aunt Ophelia been at a certain point on the Sangamon, near this city, last Saturday, she would have given vent to her favorite ejaculation—"How shiftless!" It seems that three young girls, in the neighborhood of "sweet sixteen," went blackberrying. Their baskets were soon filled, and weary and warm the maidens wended their way homeward. The day was hot, and as the damsels passed beneath the shade on the banks of the river, the temptation extended by the grateful water was too strong for resistance. The girls blushingly disrobed, and shyly slid into the river. They remained there in modest sport for half an hour. When they left the stream, blackberries, and, worse yet, clothes were gone, nowhere to be found. They were in dismay, but went into the river, hoping that the clothes would be returned. But there was no such luck, and night was coming on, under cover of which their only hope was to reach home unperceived. Suddenly fortune favored them in the appearance of a young girl who had also been berrying, and was on her way home. The case was stated to her, and she speedily sought the friends of the poor, half drowned females, who soon brought them clothing, and their embarrassment was over. The clothes left on the river bank were undoubtedly stolen, as nothing has been heard or seen of them since.—Springfield (Ills.) Register.

DISINFECTING STREETS.—An old citizen, signing himself "An Englishman," writes as follows to the Cincinnati Commercial, suggesting a practical plan for disinfecting streets:

It would be a wise plan, during the visitation of cholera, if all water carts had a certain amount of chloride of lime put into each load of water, by which means the streets would be constantly sprinkled with one of the best disinfectants; and it would be a good plan to have roads watered more frequently, to keep up this disinfecting principle. I am proposing nothing new. This plan was tried with the greatest success in London, England, during the time cholera was last there, and after this solution of chloride of lime had been well diffused through the city, the number of cases from that awful disease rapidly decreased. Would it not, then, be well at once, before it is too late, to try so simple a remedy? The cost is but little, and I think has but to be suggested, to be put at once in operation.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

A Political Struggle, rarely surpassed in importance and intensity, has been precipitated on the country by the treachery of Andrew Johnson and some of his official or personal adherents to the great and patriotic party by which they were intrusted with power.
The aim of this treachery is to put the steadfast loyalists of the South under the feet of the "whipped but not subdued" Rebels, and to enable the latter to glut their vengeance on the former, whom they hate and curse as responsible for the most unexpected overthrow of their darling "Confederacy."
The recent wholesale massacres at Memphis and New Orleans were but conspicuous manifestations of the spirit now rampant in the South, whereof the pro-Rebel triumph in Kentucky is a more recent example. The soldiers of Lee, Beauregard, Johnston and Hood are now the dominant power from the Potomac to the Rio Grande; they elect each other to office in preference even to stay-at-home Rebels; they have supplanted nearly all Union policemen of Southern cities; they are organized and officered as State militia; and they ruthlessly crush every demonstration of loyal Whites and loyal Blacks in assertion of the EQUAL RIGHTS of AMERICAN FREEMEN. The republ-houses of the Blacks are burned, and their White tea hers subjected to violence and outrage by unchanged Rebels, who relieve the work of murder and arson by cheers for Andy Johnson and execrations of Congress.
The purpose of forcing representatives of the Rebel States into Congress, in defiance of the loyal oath, by Presidential bat and Military power, is openly avowed, with threats that those who resist it shall be treated as rebels, and a civil war thus kindled throughout the North and West.
It has thus become imperative that those who stand for LIBERTY and LOYALTY—for the right of the UNION to exist and of MAN to be FREE—should organize and work to strengthen the hands of CONGRESS for the inevitable contest before us.
We must convince the SOUTH and the COPPERHEADS that revolutions go not backward—that Emancipation is an unchangeable fact—that the glorious CIVIL RIGHTS ACT can never be repealed—that the rights of the humblest AMERICAN are henceforth guaranteed and shielded by the FEDERAL CONSTITUTION and must be maintained against all gainsayers—that the days when BLACKS had no rights which WHITES were bound to respect have passed away for ver.
We hold to-day the power in all the FREE STATES of 18; in WEST VIRGINIA, and in MISSOURI beside. We must hold these in our coming elections, and add to them MARYLAND and DELAWARE—the former lost to us through treachery, the latter by Johnsonism. We must reject the XLIXth Congress an overwhelming majority devoted to Loyalty, Nationality, and the inalienable Rights of Man.
To this end, let Light and Truth be systematically diffused to every neighborhood, every fireside, throughout our broad country.
To this end, we propose an extra issue of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, identical in size and contents with the regular edition, which we will supply to all subscriptions received prior to September 15, on the following terms, the paper to be sent and subscriptions to commence on receipt of the money:

A Word to the Players.

Now that the regular dramatic season is approaching we cannot resist the temptation to drop a word of advice to the "player folks," which, if accepted in the kindly spirit in which it is tendered, may have a beneficial influence, not only in elevating the profession in the estimation of the better class of society here, but also in filling the managerial exchequers with that much desired article—money—without which the most self-sacrificing caterer to the amusement of the "dear public" cannot prosper. Since the days of Greek comedy, when the Knights of the "sock and buskin" were carted through the Athenian streets, dramatic representations have been closely allied with those two great agents that have tended more than any thing else to bring the world to its present advanced stage of civilization—poetry and art. Even amid the licentiousness of the Roman Empire the drama stood far above the morals of the period and labored to teach the people that there is something above the gratification of sensuality. In France and England the drama were then of culture, erudition and refinement, while stage or dramatic poetry form the better portion of the Belles Letters, for which both nations are so noted. When Beaumont and Fletcher's impure productions had almost the sole control of the stage in Great Britain society was even far below the standard set forth in their productions. We have only cited these facts for the purpose of proving that, instead of being injurious to public morals, the theatre is well calculated, if properly managed, to elevate the mind, strengthen the intellect, improve the morals, and aid the improvement of the masses by teaching them sanitary lessons that, if given in a less agreeable form, would have no effect.

That the theatre has met with the opposition of intelligent people can be attributed more to the fact that the entertainment often offered is of such a character as to insure the censure of all well meaning moral persons, while on the other hand, a great deal of this opposition comes from a groundless prejudice against a profession, that the prejudiced parties know nothing about. As a friend of the histrionic profession we would advise managers to exclude all that villainous class of sensational dramas in which the "many hair" is forced to violence to the text to utter profanations that cannot fail to insult the polite ear, and would not be tolerated in private society, where the lady histrions stick to the habiliments of their sex, for women in unmentionables are an unpleasant spectacle, whether on or off the stage. But above all let us have no more of those comedians who becoming enamoured of their native wit, substitute their own vulgarity for the witticisms of the author. They may make the vulgar laugh but they cannot but "make the judicious grieve," while their buffoonry tends to drive the better portion of the community from the theatre altogether. We trust in the ensuing season this thing will not be tolerated and, from our knowledge of the managers that are to control the destinies of our theatres—it will not. Instead of the sensational, nonsensical school, let us have a little more of plays, such as Bulwer's Money, Schiller's Robbers, Homer's Iliad, with an occasional in order, larding of glorious old Billy Shakspeare's productions, and, our word for it, the receipts in the treasury will be far in advance of those obtained by playing Jack Sheppard, George Barnwell, and plays of such a class as only satisfy the perverted tastes of a few noisy urchins in the gallery. Remember that

"Vulgarity admits of no defence,
A lack of decency is a want of sense."

An Office Holders Reply

The following straightforward letter shows the spirit that pervades all parts of the great Union Republican party, and the willingness to sacrifice self rather than bow down before the shrine of that power that would elevate treason and rob the country of the fruits of a "well fought war." Even the terror of official decapitation has no effect upon such men as the writer of the letter given below:

POST OFFICE, WEST MANCHESTER, PA., August 14th, 1866.

Hon. A. W. Randall—Sir: I received your call for the Philadelphia Convention under the frank of Senator Cowan, and being absent from home at the time of its arrival is the reason of the delay in answering it.

I hearily approve of said call, being as I am an advocate of the freedom of speech on all subjects, and the right of any portion of our citizens to peaceably assemble and freely discuss and deliberate on all subjects; and, believing that it is by the diffusion of light and knowledge that darkness is to be expelled from the minds of even Copperheads and traitors.

The emoluments of the office which I hold are not, nor would the emoluments of all the offices at your disposal, be sufficient to enlist me in support of a party composed of such material as the traitors in the late rebellion and their Northern sympathizers.

If these lines meet with your approbation, all right, if they do not, you will regard it as my resignation, and make an appointment as soon as possible to fill my place.

Respectfully yours,
WM. B. ROSS, Postmaster.

Assault and Battery.

Geraldine Martin, resides under the shadow of Mount Washington, in the borough of West Pittsburgh, and in order to gain a sufficient quantity of the "staff of life," to satisfy the cravings of a rather robust nature, she takes in washing—or in other words Geraldine is a washer-woman. Yesterday she stretched a line across an open lot owned by Mr. Elliott, and hung some of the fruits of her labor on it. Before they were dry, Mrs. Elliott wanted to occupy the lot for the same purpose, and feeling she had an owners right to remove all obstructions from her property, she cut the line down, and Mrs. Martin's washing fell to the ground, being apprised of the occurrence, Geraldine repaired to the yard and without waiting to gather the pieces from the ground, she seized a hatchet and cut Mrs. Elliott's line, and following the rule of gravitation and attraction, the washing of the latter also mingled with the dust. After indulging in some little sarcasms not very pleasing to the polite ear, Geraldine lifted a stick and struck Mrs. Elliott over the head, creating a lump about the size of a hen's egg. Not knowing the rapped for this home, while Max Strakosch's Italian Opera Troupe, Grover's German Opera Troupe, and the Ravel Family Troupe will also appear. See small bills and advertisements for list of the excellent company and other particulars said Trimble's varieties.

BERLIN, Prussia, Aug. 14.—General Von Rhetz has been appointed by the King of Prussia, Governor General of Hanover.

The mission of Prince Itzenburg is said in substance to be to inform the Queen of Hanover that her further stay in the capital of the late kingdom will be attended with much inconvenience to her own interests, the avoidance of which should be desirable to herself. The war against Bavaria may be renewed by Prussia after the expiration of the armistice on the 22d of this month, should no change take place in the aspect now existing in the meantime.

Herr Von Patow has been appointed Chief of Direction of Civil Affairs, on the part of Prussia, in the territory of the Duchy of Nassau, the city of Frankfort and Upper Hesse.

In the Upper House of the Legislative Chambers, the Prussian Minister of Finance has introduced a bill of indemnity for the Government for financial acts done by the Executive in seeming violation of the National Budget laws, from the year 1862 to the present time. He also proposes to appropriate $4,000,000 thalers for the expenses of the current year, accompanied by a credit of 60,000,000 thalers.

The Prussian government has abandoned the idea of making a new loan, as it finds the issue of Treasury notes the most expedient way of meeting the current expenditures. More ample financial powers may, however, be required by the government, as peace has not yet been concluded.

THE DUCHIES, Flensburg, August 14.—The President of the National party has issued an address to the people of Schleswig, calling on them to willingly acquiesce in the rule of Prussia. The National party is the only party favorable to Denmark, and has demanded foreign intervention in the affairs of the late Duchies.

VIENNA, August 14.—The recent negotiations which took place between the Austrian Government and the Hungarian leaders are not permitted to be published.

The Empress of Austria, who had been lately staying in Tesla, Hungary, has gone from that city to Vienna.

BERNE, Switzerland, August 14.—All the Swiss troops will be fairly disbanded by the date of guarding the frontier line between Switzerland and Italy, have been disbanded.

The exportation of horses from Switzerland is still prohibited.

The Austrian headquarters in the Tyrol are fixed at Borge, having been removed from Primallafano.

MADRID, Spain, August 15.—The Madrid Government has already paid twenty millions of reals, on account of the debt due to the Bank of Spain. Large amounts of bullion are arriving in Madrid from the provinces.

LONDON, August 14, P. M.—Money is much easier on the Stock Exchange. The Bank of England rate of discount will undoubtedly be reduced from ten to eight per cent. this week. LONDON, August 15—P. M.—The following are the official quotations on the London Stock Exchange at the close of business to-day: Consols, for money, 89¾; United States Five-Twenties, 69; Illinois Central, 75; Erie, 62¾.

PARIS, August 14.—The bourse is firmer Rentes are quoted at 69f.

LIVERPOOL, August 14—P. M.—In the Liverpool cotton market the sales to-day amounted to 12,000 bales.
